Assistant Professor Michael Marsden
Department of Geography
Sir George Williams University

Dear Professor Marsden:

Now that the Report of the Committee to Investigate a Charge of Racism Against Professor Perry Anderson has been deposited, and the deadline for appeal has passed without an appeal being lodged, the responsibility of the Committee has come to an end. I would like, at this point, to record the deep appreciation of the University to you for the manner in which you carried out the duties of a member of the Committee. Your deliberations proved to require much more time and to be much more complex than was anticipated when you agreed to serve. The importance and significance of the Committee's work also proved to be much greater than was foreseen. For these reasons, the University owes a substantial debt of appreciation to you and your colleagues for having carried through a difficult task under adverse circumstances. I should like to express that appreciation, and assure you that your work is recognized as an unparalleled contribution to the welfare of the University.

Yours sincerely,

J. W. O'Brien
Principal and Vice-Chancellor
